TREACHER and Co.'s OZO, per doz. Rs. 3, bottles included.

TREACHER'S GINGER ALE, is highly aromatic and pleasingly pungent to the palated; the various ingredients of which it is composed are proportioned to a nicety, and the utmost care and cleanliness ("as with all our Aerated Waters") are exercised in its production, viz.,

TREACHER'S LIME-ADE, is a delicious carbonated preparation of the Montserrat Lime Fruit Juice, an antiscorbutic, blood-purifying drink of superior character, ranking as a companion to our much admired Ginger Ale. It is cooling and refreshing at all times, healthful and suited to the present season, and being of full citricity and flavour is palatable and agreeable both as a medicinal agent and as a beverage.

TREACHER'S SODA AND POTASH WATERS, are by the aid of steam power charged with gas at the greatest possible pressure, and thereby rendered sparkling and agreeable in the highest degree.

TREACHER'S TONIC WATER, is unequalled for delicacy of flavour and tonic properties, each bottle containing a definite quantity of Quinine presented in an agreeable form.

TREACHER'S LEMONADE AND GINGERADE, are as flavoured waters celebrated for their freshness and delicious taste.

TREACHER'S OZO is a delightful sparkling health-sustaining beverage, a dissipator of mental and nervous affections, and a renewer of physical power.

TREACHER'S AERATED WATER, is thoroughly impregnated with Carbonic Acid Gas, and, being free from alkali, it is well adapted for admixture with Claret and Acid Wines. Alone it drinks sharper to the palate and with greater pungency than Soda Water.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

WEDNESDAY EVENING, APRIL 12.

THE London Markets yesterday seem to have opened without much change. Consols and French Rentes had advanced to 101⅞ and 118½, but other Government Stocks were as before: 3½ per sent. Sterling Loan 102¼, 4 per cent. Rupee Paper 84½, and 4½ 91⅝. Bar Silver is the same, 52½d., and Exchange on India 1s. 8¼d. Bank Shares are quoted, Oriental £18, Chartered £23 10s., Mercantile £19, and Hong Kong £49. The Mercantile, it is added, pays no dividend for the past half-year, and the Oriental 2 per cent. for the same period.

The METAL quotations are unaltered.

WHEAT seems a little better, and No. 1 Soft White is quoted 9s. and Hard Red 40s. 6d. to arrive vid Canal.

The COFFEE market is unchanged, and quotations are given—

|---|---|
| Mid. Plantation ... .. .. .. .. | 67s. |
| Good Ordinary Native ... .. .. .. | 46s. |
| Native Mysore .. .. .. .. .. | 53s. |

The total stock at English ports is 15,900 tons.

The Liverpool Cotton market was unchanged; sales 10,000 bales, but arrivals are reported weak. In America receipts were 7,000 bales; spot prices as before, but July futures had advanced from 12·43 to 12·57.

Our Cotton market here opened with rather more firmness on the part of sellers, owing to the advance of 14 points in American futures, but the demand has been very languid, and the improved tone in the morning has now quite been lost. Even at the rates we quote there is a very limited demand, and the amount of business put through has been very small indeed. Broach is still quoted Rs. 230, and the rates for other leading descriptions are Oomras Good Rs. 195, F. G. F. Rs. 186, Good Fair Rs. 180, Dholeras Good Rs. 193, F. G. Fair Rs. 183.

EXCHANGE was a shade easier towards the close of the day, though there is not much anxiety to do business until the result of the sale of Council drafts this afternoon becomes known. The general idea seems to be that 3-16 will be the minimum limit fixed, but that it is by no means certain that they will all be taken up at that rate.

We quote closing rates as follows:—

| | Demand. | 3 mos.' | 4 mos.' |
|---|---|---|---|
| Bank ..... | 1s. 8d. | 1s. 8 15-16d. | 1s. 8 17-32d. |
| | 3 months' sight. | 6 months' sight. | |
| Credits ..... | 1s. 8 9-16d. | 1s. 8½d. | |
| Documents .. | 1s. 8 19-32d. | 1s. 8 25-32d. | |
| Francs ..... | 217f | 219f | |

Money keeps very tight, and the Bank of Bombay Directors made no change at their weekly meeting in the present high rates charged for advances of all kinds.

GOVERNMENT PAPER has been steady to-day, but no business has been done in it to any important extent. Small lots have been sold at ⅛ over our yesterday's quotation, viz. 101, but there has been no large demand at this limit. 4½ per cent. are steady at 108½.

Bank Shares are quiet but unchanged.

In Land Companies Colabas have fallen from Rs. 792½, at which they were sold yesterday, to Rs. 785.

Press Shares are again firmer, and in some cases Rs. 5 to Rs. 25 higher, as will be seen from our quotations.

Spinning Shares are still dull and tend downwards, and we again in many cases reduce quotations Rs. 5 to Rs. 10 per share.

FREIGHTS are steady, and we quote current rates as follows:—

|---|---|
| Liverpool vid Canal ..... | 32-6 |
| London do. | 33-9 |
| Liverpool vid Cape ..... | 48-9 |
| London do. | 47-6 |
| Havre vid Canal ..... | 36-3 to 37-6 |
| Trieste and Venice vid Canal.. | 40 at 2 exchange. |

The steamer Sunbeam has engaged 2,000 to 3,000 tons cargo for Hull at 33-9, and a French steamer to arrive from Mauritius has been fixed for London at 30 for weight and 32-6 for measurement.

A. MENIST,
OCULIST OPTICIAN,

RESPECTFULLY announces that, having received numerous solicitations, he has been again induced to pay a professional visit to this great city; but his stay will be limited, as important affairs demand his presence in Europe.

The superiority of his Spectacles, Eye-glasses, and Binoculars is so well known throughout India, that it is not necessary further to mention it. Mr. Menist has devoted a lifetime to the profession, and the success which has attended his treatment of numerous difficult and apparently hopeless cases of defective vision sufficiently guarantee his skill.

Mr. Menist may be consulted at the Establishment of his agents.

MANY persons are told by spectacle-sellers, who call themselves opticians, that glass is as good for the eye as Pebble. Mr. M. differs on this point, and in so doing is desirous of explaining the difference between Pebbles made from Brazilian quartz and glass. Glass does not retain its transparency when exposed to atmospheric influences; it becomes more or less turbid from some spontaneous decomposition or re-arrangement of its elements. The advantage of Pebble over glass is such, the hardness over the former which is therefore not liable to scratch in use, and being a better conductor of heat than glass. To make a perfect Pebble, its axis must be cut at right angles to the axis of double refraction; these essentials are by no means to be found in cheap Pebble spectacles, and therefore the only Security the purchaser has is to buy of an optician of repute who will be more desirous to supply the best quality Pebbles.

...G. HARRISON, Assistant Accountant of ...Bank of India, who left Bombay on ...last for the Easter holidays, and was ex-...pected to return on Monday, has not been heard of since. He was accompanied by his servant, who has not returned to Bombay. His absence is unaccountable, except on the supposition that some accident might have befallen him whilst he had gone out shikarring.

THE Kutchee residents give a grand entertainment at the "Durria Mahal," Malabar Hill, on Saturday evening, in honour of His Highness the Rao's visit to Bombay. The chief feature of the entertainment will be a dancing party and fireworks. A similar entertainment will be given in His Highness's honour by Mr. Kossowjee Naik at his bungalow at Malabar Hill on Monday evening. On Tuesday an address will be presented to the Rao, who is expected to leave for Mahableshwar the same afternoon.

HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF (Sir Donald Stewart) has completed his tour, having arrived in Simla last Sunday afternoon.

MAJOR-GENERAL SIR C. MACGREGOR, Quartermaster-General, leaves for England on furlough by Friday's mail-steamer.

THE Archbishop of Goa, with his staff, arrived in Rome on the 11th of March, and after a stay there of about a fortnight he was to come out to India, arriving here before the end of the present month.

WITH reference to the announcement of Sir Steuart Bayley's appointment to succeed Mr. Rivers Thompson in Council, the Lahore paper understands that the appointment rests with the Secretary of State and has not yet been made, although it is believed that Sir S. Bayley has been recommended for it by the Government of India. The Pioneer says that gossip in Simla points to a dark horse as in the running, Sir Auckland Colvin being mentioned as perhaps the dark horse in question ; but on the whole the delay in the final announcement of Sir Steuart Bayley's appointment is probably merely owing to the Queen's absence from England, which has impeded the completion of some formalities.

THE returns of emigration from Calcutta for the month of January last show a total of 1,528 emigrants of whom no less than 1,137 were from the N.-W. Provinces and Oudh, and 218 from the Punjab. Only five emigrants were from Bengal, the province nearest to the coast. The emigrants were divided as to destination in about equal numbers between Demerara, Trinidad, and the French West Indian Colonies.

A RUMOUR is current in Calcutta that, on Sir Steuart C. Bayley's being appointed a Member of the Supreme Council of the Government of India in place of the Hon'ble Rivers Thompson, the Hon'ble Horace A. Cockerell will probably be appointed Resident at Hyderabad in succession to Sir S. Bayley, and that either Mr. F. M. Halliday, Commissioner of Patna, or Mr. F. B. Peacock, Commissioner of the Presidency Division, will be elevated to the Bengal Office to act as Secretary in Chief.

LIEUTENANT MASON, R. E., has been only temporarily appointed to the post of Private Secretary to the Lieutenant Governor of the Punjab. He will hold the appointment until Lieutenant Dunlop Smith, at present a probationer in the Staff Corps, shall have completed his term of probation, when latter gentleman will take it up.

MR. CROSTHWAITE, Additional Member of the Legislative Council, is shortly expected at Simla. It is unusual for Additional Members to go to Simla without a good reason, which in this instance the Civil and Military Gazette believes is some contemplated important legislation for Northern India.

OUR Envoy has not yet commenced his journey to Kabul, but is at present at Simla, whither he was summoned from Peshwur to receive instructions.

LIEUT. J. H. SADLER, Assistant to the Agent to the Governor-General at Baroda, goes on special leave to England for six months.

DURING the months of January and February 12,655 emigrants left Hamburg for the United States.

THE following were the balances held in cash in the civil treasuries of the Government of India and at credit of Government in the Presidency Banks and their branches on the last day of :—March, 1880, Rs. 13,02,95,000 ; March,. 1881, Rs. 13,37,11,000 ; March, 1882, Rs. 14,60,11,000.

THE following notification appears in the latest Gazette of India :—The quarantine lately maintained in Egypt against vessels coming from Bombay and the Turkish ports of the Red Sea having been withdrawn, the notification in the Home Department, dated the 17th ultimo, publishing rules for the imposition of quarantine against cholera in the port of Aden, is hereby cancelled.

THE reports of the Revenue and Agricultural Department on the state of the season and prospects of the crops throughout India for the week ending the 4th April are summed up in the following "General Remarks :"—There has been some rain of a more or less local nature in the Madras and Bombay Presidencies, in the Mysore State, in the Punjab, in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, in Bengal, while in Assam the rainfall has been heavy. Harvest operations are still in progress in some districts of the Madras Presidency, with an outturn below the average. In the Bombay Presidency the rabi harvest, including cotton picking, continues in some districts. In the Punjab crops are ripening and harvest prospects are good, except in Hissar. In the North-Western Provinces and Oudh the harvest has been completed in the eastern districts and elsewhere is progressing, and prospects are generally fair. In the Central Provinces threshing and winnowing continue. In Bengal the rabi harvest is nearly over, but the outturn is not considered very good. In the epoch or fair in Southern India, save in t tricts of Bellary, Coimbatore, and Madura, ere the dry crops are reported to be suffering om want of rain, and in parts of the Mysore State and of the Nizam's territories, where the crops are deficient and water and pasturage are scarce. In the Dharwar district of the Bombay Presidency scarcity of drinking water is still felt. In Northern India prospects are everywhere satisfactory, except in one or two districts of the North-Western Provinces, one district of the Punjab, and parts of Bengal, where rain is now wanted.

AT the monthly meeting of the executive committee of the Grand Lodge of Good Templars of England, held at Birmingham, a copy of the following resolution was directed to be sent to Mr. Tennyson :—"Resolved,—That this executive of the Grand Lodge of England of Good Templars observes with regret that the Poet Laureate's new national song invites to repeated drinking as expressive alike of loyalty, patriotism, and freedom, thus pandering to a fast-decaying convivial custom which inflicts manifest injury upon so many of Her Majesty's subjects, hinders national advancement, and enslaves both body and mind." Mr. Tennyson, after this, will doubtless resign the poet-laureateship.

A TELEGRAM to The Times from Rome says :—Mr. Bradlaugh, who has so pertinaciously struggled for the abolition of Parliamentary oaths, is expected to come to Rome and take part in the Congress of Free Thinkers.

ON March 17 upwards of two thousand men, with spades, marched in military order from Clare-morris to Ballykinnane, where the farm of the brothers J. and N. Nally, both suspects in Kilmainham, is situated, and there sowed several acres of oats and potatoes. The Claremorris brass band played a selection of airs.

AMONG the private Bills which are now before Parliament, the Pall Mall Gazette says, none attract more general interest than those promoted by the electric lighting companies for powers to enable them to apply their systems on a much more extensive scale than they have hitherto found possible.

CAPTAIN EADE'S proposition to carry vessels across the Isthmus of Panama on a railroad, as embodied in a Bill to incorporate the Inter-Oceanic Ship Railway Company, has been favourably reported to the Senate from the Committee on Commerce. It is stated that opposition to the Bill in the committee was withheld as a compliment to the introducer, with the understanding that Senators who were opposed to it should have an opportunity to manifest their opposition by speech and vote.

"STEPS are being taken in this city," the New York Nation says, "to provide properly for the Jewish refugees who are expected soon to reach this country from Russia. Already nearly 3,000 of these exiles have come to New York from southern Russia, and nearly 1,000 are now on their way, and before the summer the number of arrivals is expected to be increased to 10,000."

THE Pall Mall Gazette :—Mr. Lewis, amid much laughter, drew attention to the entry in the journals that on Tuesday the Message from the Crown was received, "all being uncovered." The fact was that Mr. Bright sat with his hat on, as also did four other Liberal members, whom he named ; and he wished to know if the entry could be amended so as to agree with the fact. Mr. Dodds, one of the gentlemen named, said that he was not in the House at the time. The Speaker said the entry was made in the usual way, on the assumption that the hon. members who had not uncovered had acted inadvertently.

SAYS the Spectator :—In a lengthier report upon the Indian Budget, forwarded to the Times, a noteworthy fact comes out. All the native members of the Legislative Council, except one, resisted the reduction of the salt-duties, upon the ground that nobody particularly felt them. There is no doubt they are wrong, but the very strong feeling of the higher natives in favour of these duties is a curious phenomenon. Even in the Punjab most serious remonstrances were addressed to Sir John Lawrence against his light salt-duties, on the ground that "he was cutting away the resources of any Government" which might succeed the British ; and we believe every popular meeting upon municipal taxes has been in favour of octroi duties. The truth is, we suppose, that native economists, like many in Europe also, cannot believe in the injury done by indirect taxation, or that a few farthings a pound levied on an article of universal consumption

MR. BRADLAUGH had a fresh airing of notoriety recently. He appeared at the Marylebone Police Court as the cicerone of Mrs. Besant, who refused to be sworn, alleging she was an Atheist. Her grievances were that some enterprising thief had stolen one of her dogs, and that the robber had unlawfully taken from her 15 guineas for helping to recover the canine pet. The dog was found and restored, Mr. Bradlaugh being one of the mediums in the restoration. His legal acuteness was too much for the artful dodgery of the thief : hence the proceedings, which as a matter of course were rendered slightly sensational by the intrusion of the oaths difficulty. After his police court performance Mr. Bradlaugh showed himself about the House of Commons, and exercised his right to sit with his hat on under the gallery.

THERE is something mysterious about the dealings of Irish landlords with their tenants, which, remarks the Pall Mall Gazette, appears to involve ideas about fair-play altogether opposed to our English notions. On an application to break a lease by a tenant of Lord Gormanston, the landlord said he offered the lease " as a concession, thinking that by so doing he would the more readily induce his tenants to fall in with the increase of rent." Under certain circumstances one would naturally expect this would be so. If, for instance, the lease offered advantages to the tenant, and he were made acquainted with its provisions and not noticed to quit in case he refused it. But this course does not seem to have commended itself to Lord Gormanston as either fair or necessary. He admitted that every tenant was obliged to accept a lease or was told to go ; and his solicitor said that "he did not submit the lease to the tenant, who had no solicitor acting for him, or explain its provisions." The lease itself is described as containing almost all the vices possible, which perhaps the following provisions sufficiently illustrate. In addition to an increase of rent, the tenant was to pay all the county cess, 9 per cent. on any rent not paid within one month of its falling due, £3 penal rent for every acre of crops not dealt with in a particular manner, £20 every time bricks were burnt on the land or any earth used for the same. The tenant to furnish his landlord with a horse and cart for two days in the year, and give one month's notice of all proposed improvements, for which he bound himself to claim no compensation, and so on.

IT has been difficult, says the Nation, to make out from the accounts of Mr. Wilde's appearances in Western cities whether he was really having a nice æsthetic time, or whether the coarse, unfeeling vulgarians among whom he was labouring were "making it hot" for the æsthete "under the old Flag." All doubts, however, have been set at rest by the æsthete himself, in a pleasant letter addressed by him to Joaquin Miller whom he met and loved in this city, and now, it seems, even in far St. Louis, yearns to meet again. For himself and because, he says, he has "no fear as regards the future," and the reason he gives are strong put. He admits that in one or two insignificant towns there has been some "petty and profitless vulgarity," but he declares that he should think it as absurd to regard this as an indication of the "real spirit of a sane, strong, and simple people" as to "judge of the strength and splendour of sun and sea by the dust that dances in the beam and the bubble that breaks on the waves." "Slaver and folly," says Mr. Wilde in his simple early-English way, "have their way for a season," but his time is much occupied, and he has none to waste on "the few provincial newspapers which have so vainly assailed me." He has a few incidental remarks to make, however, on an "ignorant and itinerant libeller of New England," who, it seems, has been "lecturing from village to village on ostentatious [illegible] though in connect[illegible] what lyceum [illegible] bureau Mr. Wilde does not say. He does not mention his name either, but describes him as a "literary gamin," and his talk as mere "brawling," "mouthing," and "chatter." He expresses a desire to know who "this scribbling anonymuncle" is, that he "should write of him"—a question which, however, hardly calls for a reply from Mr. Miller, as it is unlikely that he can furnish any information of which Mr. Wilde is not already in possession.

HERR SCHMUCK'S CONCERT.

HERR SCHMUCK'S announcement of a concert resulted in a well-attended house yesterday afternoon. With glimmering—literally glimmering—recollections of some recent concerts at the Town Hall, given in semi-darkness, the lighting of the side jets must have struck many of the audience as a decided and very obvious improvement. Herr Schmuck is probably aware of a fact of which a good number of people appear to be ignorant—that a well-lighted room tends materially to the success of a concert. The concert opened with a septet arrangement of the overture to the Caliph of Bagdad. The Calife is a product of Boieldieu's earlier period, during the greater part of which he, like many other wooers of the Muses, and particularly of music, got more kicks than half-pence. He is said to have submitted it piecemeal as it was composed to the criticism of his pupils at the Conservatoire, Méhul, the great regenerator of opera comique, being, however, final arbiter. The story, no doubt, is somewhat apocryphal, but it is quite in keeping with the character of the man who after a most successful performance of this same opera, being accosted in the lobby of the Opera House at Paris by Cherubini with the playful inquiry whether he was not ashamed of such undeserved success, forthwith commenced under that great Italian master an arduous course of contrapuntal study the effects of which are very visible in his subsequent productions. At yesterday's concert the overture found excellent and finished exponents. In the three part-songs sung by forty children of the Byculla School, they acquitted themselves with credit, one voice particularly being conspicuous for its sweetness and power. The programme is we think, in error in attributing to Otto the Fisherwife's Song, which, unless we are much mistaken, is by Hatton, a still more fertile writer of part-songs. Miss Florence Flower, a very minute specimen of young-ladyhood, who was understood to be a pupil of Herr Schmuck's, played a drawing-room piece of Scotson Clark's with a precision and taste which reflect equal credit upon herself and upon her teacher ; and if she made just a little too free use of the pedals, this is no doubt a fault which may be attributed to nervousness, and one which in so promising a little pianiste will soon be remedied. Miss Flower was recalled, and bowed her acknowledgments. Colonel White's flute solo was a pleasing performance, and in this hot weather ought to be a cure for mal du pays. Mr. Hutson was probably not up to his ordinary form. The Rhapsodie Hongroise of Hauser was effectively given by Herr Schmuck, who was evidently in force, and was enthusiastically and deservedly encored. Miss Schmuck's accompaniments was admirable, as was also her performance of the Fantasia by Benedict, who some hypercritical people contend is the only pianiste of his own palate. The accompaniments of Sir Julius have done almost as much for Irish music as his master Weber did for the Volkslied, and Miss Schmuck's execution of "Erin," taken as an amateur performance, was such as would probably have satisfied even the fastidious taste of the illustrious composer. The Haydn Symphony has already, in the notice of Herr Schmuck's last concert, when it was given as a septet, been referred to fully. Yesterday it was performed as a septet, the viola being withdrawn, and the flute and harmonium added. The flute was not very hard-worked, and the addition of the harmonium was a decided improvement, as it always is in a small orchestra, where the wiry contractors of the present time are becoming daily more alive. It must have been a matter of general regret that the distinguished lady amateur who took part in the Symphony did not also appear as a solo executant. Herr Schmuck deserves great credit for introducing at his concerts concerted music of a high character, and it is therefore satisfactory to find his efforts to provide us with good music meeting with due recognition and encouragement.

A DURBAR AT BHOWNAGAR.

A CORRESPONDENT sends us an account of a durbar held in Bhownagar last month by the Political Agent in the High School building, to present a sanad conferring the title of Rao Bahadoor on Rao Saheb Gopalji Surbhai Desai, Deputy Educational Inspector, Kathiawar. There were present His Highness Sir Takhatsingji, K.C.S.I., Thakore Saheb of Bhownagar, Azam Gavrishanker Udeshanker, C.S.I., and all the ladies and gentlemen in town, as well as all the Agency officials, the Dewan and officers of the Bhownagar State, and the Agents of different States in attendance with the Political Agent. The Durbari regimental band and a guard of honour were also present. His Highness the Thakore Saheb and the Political Agent were received with the salutes due to their respective ranks. When all had taken their seats, the Political Agent addressed the assembly, remarking that before the commencement of the Rao Saheb's services in Kathiawar as a Deputy Educational Inspector, the educational system of Kathiawar was not only in its infancy, but also in a very precarious state. He took charge of 54 schools and 3,500 pupils in 1865 ; and now there were 625 schools and 35,000 boys receiving education. They had four High Schools and one Training College, and libraries had been introduced in the large towns ; good substantial buildings were erected in every direction ; there was an excellent teaching staff ; and the funds were in a prosperous state. The Government and the Director of Public Instruction spoke in high terms of the progress of education in Kathiawar. These results were due in a great measure to the admirable way in which Rao Bahadoor Gopalji Surbhai had performed his duties and the method introduced and carried out by him. The sanad was then presented to the Rao Bahadoor with the Agent's hearty congratulations and good wishes for the future. The Rao Bahadoor, in his reply, expressed deep gratitude towards his Excellency the Viceroy and the Governor-General-in-Council for this honourable title conferred upon him, and towards his past and present educational superiors and the Political Agent for recommending him to the Government for the honour. He gave hearty thanks to Assistant Political Agents, Chiefs, and Karbharies of different States and their advisers and Vakils, who assisted him most willingly for the spread of education. His Highness Sir Takhtsingji and others then congratulated the Rao Bahadoor, and the usual distribution of attar, pansoparí, and flowers terminated the ceremony.

THE GILCHRIST SCHOLARSHIP EXAMINATIONS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—Will any of your correspondents kindly tell me where I would be able to find the rules regulating the Gilchrist Scholarship Examinations ? On inquiry the Registrar of the Bombay University writes that "this office has no copy of the rules ;" so I applied to the Calcutta University, and the Registrar referred me to the Director of Public Instruction ; and this gentleman, in his turn, writes that the rules are printed in the Bombay Government Gazette, and that I might call upon the Principal of the Elphinstone College and ask to be shown the rules in force. I have already wasted more than a month in trying to get at the rules, and as I am anxious to save time, I thought some of your correspondents would kindly inform me on the subject through you, so that the public might know in future where to look for them.

ROYAL ALFRED SAILORS' HOME.

THE annual meeting of this institution was held yesterday afternoon, under the presidency of Captain Morland. There were present Mr. W. G. Mayhew (hon. secretary), Mr. H. W. Uloth (hon. treasurer), Mr. Mathew, General Hewett, Captain Clark, Hon. S. D. Sassoon, Mr. Silas Sassoon, Mr. Walker, Mr. Macaulay, Khan Bahadur Shaik Hyder Cassim, and Mr. Manockjee Cursetjee.

The hon. secretary read the following reports :—

The report of the Directors for 1881 was as follows :—The Directors of the "Sailors' Home" have much pleasure in presenting to the subscribers, and others interested in the institution, their forty-fourth annual report. In inviting a reference to the balance-sheet, the Directors have to report that the expenditure has exceeded the income by Rs. 833-12-1. This is owing to an outlay of Rs. 1,988-11-4 for painting the iron work, varnishing the wood work, and general repairs to the building. These repairs, &c., are the first of this nature that the Directors have been required to undertake since the building was first occupied, and have been kindly superintended by Mr. Stevens. A new cooking range has been provided at a cost of Rs. 516-3-7, including the putting of it up, which must be looked upon as an extraordinary expenditure, and will not require to be repeated for years to come. The total daily number of officers and seamen of all ratings who boarded in the Home during 1881, as shown in the appendix was 8,595, the daily average being 23·55, or 5·63 less than during the year 1880. The admissions into the Home, however, have been 88 officers and 743 seamen, which gives an average of 17 officers and 22 seamen over that of the previous year. The Home was availed of to some extent by petty officers and seamen of the Royal Navy and Troopships. During the year 7 petty officers and 129 seamen and marines on leave from their ships were accommodated in the Home for periods varying from one to four days. Destitute seamen to the number of 12 were supported in the Home by the Board of Trade through the Shipping Master, each remaining on an average sixteen days. During the year 56 seamen were sent to the European General Hospital for treatment, and 5 were received as patients for periods ranging from 3 to 25 days. Three deaths occurred. The Directors record with satisfaction that the honorary medical officer has continued his service. Dr. Cassim's report is appended. The Canteen arrangements have continued on the usual footing and have given satisfaction. The messing arrangements in the matter of the charge have been revised, and instead of 14 annas per diem Re. 1 per diem has been charged to inmates of the Home since 1st April. This additional charge has proved to pay for washing, to provide the use of towels and soap in the lavatories, and to supply each inmate with the use of a sleeping suit. The Home has been visited by several gentlemen during the year, who without exception expressed themselves pleased with the completeness of the arrangements for the comfort of the inmates. A good supply of newspapers and periodicals has been provided from the interest on the "Henry Memorial Fund," and gratuitously during the year. The honorary Chaplain has taken a considerable interest in the well-being of the seamen, and his annual report, which appears in the appendix, will, the Directors feel sure, be read with interest. No permanent changes have taken place in the personnel of the Board of Directors during the year. Mr. H. W. Uloth proceeded to England, but returned after a few months. In his absence Mr. A. Maclean acted for him as honorary treasurer, and the Directors accord him their thanks for his kindness in undertaking the duties. The Directors have to thank Mrs. Morland and the other ladies and gentlemen who kindly assisted at the musical and dramatic entertainment at the Gaiety Theatre, which, after paying all expenses, gave Rs. 666-10-6 to the funds of the Home. In concluding their report the Directors beg again to repeat their satisfaction at the zealous and efficient manner in which Mr. Lauder has continued to conduct his duties as Superintendent.

The Chaplain's report is as follows :—There has been Divine Service in the library on Sunday afternoons at 4-30 P.M. The attendance during the first seven months of the year was very good, averaging about fifteen ; the latter portion of the year the attendance was low, owing to the small number of residents in the Home. On Thursday evenings there has been a meeting consisting of reading and singing, always closing with the prayer for those at sea. These meetings have been well attended and appreciated ; the largest number present was thirty-five, in the beginning of the year. At the close of each of the services and meetings we have endeavoured to give to each sailor a small magazine, such as the "Dawn of Day," published by the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, or a tract, including "An Address to Sailors," extracted from the late Rear-Admiral Sir Wm. Edward Parry's lecture on the character, &c., of British seamen ; these have always been gladly received. Occasionally I have found among the officers and seamen, men who could sing well, and a few who played the harmonium, and I have no doubt if such, who are as a rule ready men, were allowed to play the harmonium occasionally, it might be the means of keeping some of the sailors from less profitable occupation. Several Sunday evenings at the Prince's Dock service I have noticed sailors present who had previously attended my afternoon service in the Home. As in former years, I thank Mr. Lauder and his assistant for the help they have rendered me in my work in the Home.

Annual medical observations show the average strength during the year, 23·55. Annual percentage of sick sent to the European General Hospital for treatment, 1·39. The present condition of the conservancy is good. The quantity of water is sufficient and of good quality. The sanitary condition of the Home is all that can be desired. The officers and men in the Home use their own clothing, and get good and wholesome food, according to the rules laid down by the Managing Committee. The men enjoy very good health. No epidemics occurred throughout the year compared with the previous year ; health good. Prevailing diseases have been catarrh, ague and bowel complaints ; none, however, were of a serious nature. There were no accidents. Three men died during the year under report. Their names are Robert McNabb, John Lindsay and August Bakstrom, all able seamen. The two former were admitted into the Home in an advanced stage of consumption, and after a few days were sent to the European General Hospital. The last named seaman had a broken-down constitution, attributable to his having been a very dissipated person. He died of abscess of the liver, also in the hospital.

Statement showing the number of admissions into the "Royal Alfred Sailors' Home," Bombay, from January to December, 1880 and 1881 :—Officers in 1880, 71 ; in 1881, 88 ; seamen in 1880, 721, in 1881, 743. Total in 1880, 792 ; in 1881, 831. Greatest number in the Home at any one time during the year 56 to last 7.

The Chairman moved that the reports be adopted and printed. He called attention to one or two important points in the reports, and stated that the repairs which had been made to the building were quite unavoidable. They had been carried out in the most economical manner, and compared favourably with those of previous years. He could see why the Home was not so well filled as it used to be was that there was greater demand in regard to vessels now than in the Prince's Dock was open, and so far as that goes the Institution exercised the Home was in a most perhaps in the most favourable position. The conduct of the inmates during the year had been very good indeed, and there had been no applications for discharge. It might look upon the institution as a most useful and thriving one, and one that did a great deal in promoting the welfare of the seamen who came into the port.

Mr. Walker seconded the resolution, which was carried unanimously.

The Hon. S. D. Sassoon proposed the following resolution :—That this meeting desires to express its similar institution [illegible] for many years past, and it [illegible] of the means adopted by the directors to their interest and well-being. Very few words, he said, were necessary in moving the resolution. It spoke for itself, and must commend itself to the unanimous approval not only of those present at that meeting, but of the whole civilised portion of the human race. They all sympathised with the trials and hardships undergone by the gallant seaman who were continually braving the dangers of the deep on their behalf ; and he was sure that they felt gratified to hear of anything being done to render them comfortable and improve their condition. Such institutions as the one in which they had met so long time been occupied in doing a large amount of silent good ; and perseverance in the same course would cause the benefits conferred by them on the merchant sailors to be still further amplified.

Captain White seconded the motion, which was carried.

Mr. Macaulay proposed a resolution to the effect that the meeting felt deeply grateful to those friends who contributed to the support of the institution, and to those who testified their interest in it by frequent visits.

Mr. Uloth seconded the motion, and it was carried.

General Hewett proposed, and Captain Clark seconded, the re-election of Captain Morland as president, Mr. Mayhew as hon. secretary, and Mr. Uloth as hon treasurer. Carried.

Mr. Macaulay, Captain White, and the Hon S. D. Sassoon were elected directors in place of three gentlemen who retired.

Mr. Mathew proposed a vote of thanks to the directors for their management of the institution. They would agree with him that Bombay had reason to be proud of the institution and its management. The directors were men of business, and they very kindly gave their valuable time to this most useful institution, where sailors who arrived from all parts of the world found a home and comfort. They had read how sailors arriving at towns where such provision had not been made had, after escaping the dangers of the sea, got into more serious danger on land. They must all admit that the greatness and prosperity of the British Empire depended largely on her mercantile marine. Landsmen certainly owed much to their gallant sailors, and those gentlemen who assisted in paying a small part of their public duty by giving their time to the management of that institution were certainly entitled to their thanks.

Mr. Silas Sassoon seconded the resolution, which was carred unan'mously.

The Chairman announced that a concert in aid of the Home had been arranged to take place at the Gaiety Theatre on the 20th instant, and he hoped that those present at that meeting would be good enough to recommend it to the notice of their friends, and thus aid the institution.

On the motion of the Hon. S. D. Sassoon, seconded by Khan Bahadur Shaik Hyder Cassim, a vote of thanks was passed to the Chairman.

pleased with his excursion, to return and say that he is willing to leave the rink. If only one could think that his own wish and will, would never take him in any worse direction.

MILITARY GOOD SERVICE PENSIONS

It is somewhat anomalous we think that recipients of good service pensions, granted in many cases for very distinguished services, should lose them on retirement, under the various schemes now and again introduced for the purpose of accelerating promotion. The good service pensions are bestowed, or supposed to be bestowed, for exceptionally good service. The retirement schemes affect all officers of a certain standing alike. But if there is any meaning in the reward of a service pension at all, it should be continued especially after retirement, as a token of recognition by the State of exceptional claims. Or if the rage for military economy will not permit the liberality of Government to extend so far, it might be understood that the holder of a good service pension should be entitled to receive some decoration on relinquishing it. An officer who had fairly earned the one would certainly be as deserving a claimant of the other as most of the gentlemen who wear the Star of India. We are led into this train of reflection from noticing the case of Major General H. F. M. Boisragon, an officer of very long and distinguished service on the Punjab Frontier. This officer had thoroughly well earned the good service pension adjudged him, but, after thirty-six years' service in India, has retired upon the bonus scheme, thereby forfeiting his pension. We certainly consider that General Boisragon, and others similarly situated, should receive at least a decoration to mark the State's sense of acknowledged merit.—Civil and Military Gazette.

THE INDIAN WHEAT TRADE.

A HOME correspondent writes to an up-country contemporary that just now India is being cursed, not loudly but deeply, by an important section of the English commercial world. At no little expense and trouble, the principal wheat-dealing firms in the City ascertained some time before the American harvest was gathered in, that it would fall about 25 per cent. short of the average supply during late years. They accordingly bought immensely for forward delivery, and even when the magnitude of these transactions had considerably forced up prices they continued their purchases, in the conviction that they would have control over the market. Never for a moment did it enter their heads that India would come forward to supply the deficiency of the American crop. Indian wheat acquired a very bad name some five years ago by reason of its dirt, unsoundness, and frequent adulterations, and the speculators for the rise jumped to the conclusion that it would again show the same inferiority should anyone be bold enough to import it. But large quantities of Indian wheat have been received in England, and of excellent quality, and speculators in the American grain lost largely. The correspondent adds :—"I have these particulars from a friend in the trade, who pronounces that India now has the game in her own hands, if she will only play fairly and squarely. He says, however, that some samples still leave room for improvement in the matter of cleanness, while the quality might be better in many cases. Provided attention be paid to these points, he affirms that India may now count upon England as a pretty safe customer for three millions of quarters annually, and a great deal more if the prices were slightly reduced. In the States the railways carry grain at almost nominal rates, while the labour-saving machinery at the various shipping ports saves a lot of expense. I should imagine that the India Exchequer could not lay out a few thousands more profitably than by sending two or three qualified gentlemen, thoroughly conversant with the Indian system of transporting cereals by land and water, to see how our Transatlantic cousins manage such matters."

ST. PATRICK'S DAY IN PARIS.

THE Daily News' Paris Correspondent writes :—The "fiery cross" carried about by several Home Rulers in Paris announcing a grand demonstration on St. Patrick's Day resulted in a confessed failure. The once formidable "Head Centre" Stevens was told off to take the chair at the "national banquet" at Richard's Restaurant, Palais Royal. So he did ; but with unpunctuality, auguring ill for the organization of the party, precisely two hours after the time fixed on the "Head Centre" is a genial, well-looking, pleasant, elderly man, but after a little talk with him you find that his mind and memory are gone. Before dinner was over he left a table laid for forty, but which was not half filled, saying he wanted to smoke. Vice-president explained that their venerated chief was not in a state of health to delight them by his eloquence as he had been wont to do. A dozen letters of excuse were read by the secretary, one being from Mr. Egan, who concluded by hoping for "emancipation from the hated Saxon" at an early day. The dining-hall was ornamented with the Irish green flag surmounted by the harp, the French tricolore & the American stars and stripes & the Union Jack was not there. Some speeches were made by harmless-looking young men ting at something great to be done which was not prudently be mentioned just now, and while lamenting that from various circumstances true Ireland did not show up strong on this occasion, expressed the greatest confidence that her bright home was in the setting sun. The failure of the banquet is in great measure attributed to the absence of the staff of the United Ireland, whose publication in Paris has been discontinued.

THE LOST TRIBES.

THE "Metropolitan Anglo-Israel Association,' which, we learn, has been established since 1878, under the presidency of Viscount Folkestone, M.P., for the purpose, among other kindred matters, of "diffusing the knowledge of the discovery of the long-lost ten tribes of Israel in the British races, and encouraging the study of the theological and scientific proofs revealed by the Great Pyramids," have issued an extensive list of vice-presidents and council, in which the army and navy is curiously well represented. Besides two major-generals, among whom is Major-General Burnaby, M.P., the list includes two colonels, two lieutenant-colonels, two admirals, two captains, one surgeon-general, and one surgeon-major. With these are associated the Bishop of Rangoon and other clergymen of the Church of England, together with several justices of the peace. We gather from the documents quoted that the association undertakes to promote and assist in the formation and affiliation of branch associations throughout Great Britain, the colonies, and the United States.—Daily News.

THE CLOTURE OF CLAMOUR.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "DAILY NEWS."

SIR,—It is reasonable that a member like Mr. P. A. Taylor should take exception to the Parliamentary proposal of Clôture. He is known as a consistent and honourable leader of "forlorn hopes," and he may naturally entertain misgivings lest new and unfriended measures of real merit should be precluded from debate by the operation of the proposed rules. But Mr. Marriott never led any "forlorn hope" in Parliament or elsewhere, and does not seem likely to do it. He, as every member of Parliament, has a right to dissect from a Liberal proposal which he considers to be mistaken, needless, or injurious. But when a Liberal member attacks the leaders of his own party and aids the Opposition in disparaging them, he has ceased, so far as his influence goes, to be a member of that party. He no longer sustains its credit, but assists its enemies in supplanting it. Mr. Marriott's committee in Brighton, whom he refuses to meet and explain his conduct, numbers, I believe, 1,150 electors, who gave their names as his supporters, and whose interest and fidelity to him gave him his seat. But this is a small matter compared to the fortune of the new rules of procedure. If these rules really limited discussion it is inconceivable that Conservatives could be opposed to them, as during their reign, under Lord Beaconsfield, free discussion was under clôture both in Parliament and in the country. In Brighton, for instance, not a single public meeting on political questions was held for several years, from the certainty that it would be broken up by Conservative violence. The whole country was under clôture of the most ignominious kind. New rules of procedure are required in other places than the House of Commons. The increased intelligence of the times has given new resources to obstructives, who break through the barriers of order found sufficient in days of inactivity and lesser knowledge. No chairman of a public meeting has any legal right to order obstructionists to be removed by the police. When Mr. Jesse Collings, M.P., was Mayor of Birmingham he was subjected to gross personal insult, which interrupted the meeting for an hour, and he was afterwards indicted for ordering the obstructives to be removed. The theory of public meetings has hitherto been that every person present may address the chair and move a resolution or move an amendment, and the only way in which business can be "put through" is by putting down irrelevant and obstructive speakers by the clôture of clamour. The business of any meeting can be stopped by pursuing the practice adopted every night now in the House of Commons. Fifty or a hundred persons can by speaking might be sent to a meeting, and with intelligent leaders to devise motions and amendments which each would have a right to move, could lawfully frustrate any public meeting in the country. Every speaker would be "within the right," and there would be no remedy. This has long been what we have seen in the House of Commons. The clôture is used every night by yellings which a night envy, inspired only by the impedlam. A defined clôture limited by time conditions would introduce order into Parliamentary chaos, and be a far better provision for the advocates of new measures than their being silenced by the ruffianly and capricious clamour which can now be put in force against them with impunity. Not all at once, but in time, clamour will become discreditable, just as it is discreditable now for men to take the law into their own hands when the hand of the law can be depended upon to stay the evil which is intolerable.—Yours faithfully,
